EXCELLENCE BY A TEACHER

Exemplary practice in literacy teaching

Louise Corrigan is an exemplary early years teacher who believes strongly that all students can succeed. She draws on contemporary learning theory and teaching approaches to achieve real improvements in reading for the students in her care, including those who had previously 'turned off' literacy.

Louise's teaching is based on a thorough understanding of her students and their learning needs. Her classroom models highly positive personal interactions, seamless routines, methodical planning, and explicit teaching and assessment to improve learning. She is able to generate an extraordinary level of engagement among her students.

Louise is an inspiring teacher whose expertise in working with disadvantaged and Indigenous children has been shared in person and through video footage with teachers, parents and academics across the Northern Territory.
